Nancy's Notes - #39

Hi, Friends.

Amazingly enough, it was one year ago this week that I sent my first note to you in the form of an introductory letter. I have learned a great deal, and continue to learn new things every day. I could not have predicted some of the joyous things I have gotten to do this year, nor could I have predicted some of the heart-wrenching, difficult duties that I had to perform. Through it all of course, God's grace and faithfulness has abounded, and will continue to abound. This blessed truth (Truth) is a comfort, both when I make mistakes and when I get things right. Thank you for your patience and graciousness with your Superintendent through my rookie year.

Thanks also to Patti Gridley who has taught me much and kept the office atmosphere light and fun! Through charge (church) conferences, preaching engagements, meetings, worshiping together, etc., I have gotten to meet many of you, and look forward to meeting many more, and deepening our relationships. As we continue our journey together as the good people of the Mountain View District, may we hold each other accountable as together we invite, make, nurture, and send forth disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.

As we enter into summer, remember that God doesn't take a vacation from us, so let's not take one from Him! As you vacation and worship in other churches settings, if you experience innovative ideas, share them in your churches and with me, so we can possibly share them around the district and conference.

God bless!

With You in the Journey, Nancy

First July issue of the Bridge available

Jeff Childs highlighting Upper New York's members' generosity in their support of the United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR), and items about the Conference's new event registration system and customer satisfaction survey among others.

Being a bi-monthly publication, the Bridge can be used this Sunday or next, whichever is most useful to the local church. The newest volume will be listed at the top of the webpage, with older volumes below. The Bridge is designed to be handed out in worship as a church bulletin insert or as a standalone item. ## Conference introduces new event registration system

The Upper New York Conference has transitioned to a "simpler" system for event registration.

"The new registration system for Upper New York will be fully integrated with our Mission Connect database," said Stephen Hustedt, Conference Director of Communications. "This will result in better follow-up, better communication, and a better overall experience for attendees."

The new system, called Mission Connect – SignUp, is different from the one that was formerly used, Brick River. Those wishing to sign up for an event may create an account with the new system. Once the account is created, a user can simply log on using the prompt on the left side of the website for those who already have an account. This will be a great benefit to regular users and make registration much easier.

When a user signs into the system, he or she will see a list of events and can select which one(s) he or she would like to sign up for.

Payment will be similar to the old registration system – users can pay by check or by credit card as the event allows.

Mission Connect – SignUp has many improvements:

- It allows users to save their information so that if they wish to sign up for another event in the future, their information – including name, address, gender, and birthdate – will already be filled in, and they won't have to re-enter information each time.
  - If users create an account, rather than using the guest registration they can start an event registration, save it, and complete the registration at a later time. Those that use guest registration must fill out their event registration in one sitting (including payment), otherwise their entry will be lost. Guest registration is not recommended as a best practice.
  - User information is imported into the Conference database and, with validation, is used to update existing contact information so that the Conference database is updated without additional contact.
